English

A sci-fi Avengers-style adventure in which Morcheeba have a crazy journey in a toy car. To achieve a realistic look, the band were filmed on 35mm against a green screen using the new T-Rex system. This is a series of long optical tubes which could be placed in the car allowing for greater movement and flexibility. The footage outside the car was shot by Andre using a digital camera which he placed upside down on a rollerblade and which the kids picked up and moved around like a real toy car.
